Barbers at Kirkhill Barbers attend training course

Published – 12/03/2020

Training is critical for barbers to keep up with all the new trends that barbers must contend with, and Kirkhill Barbers recognises GBBB as one of the best in the business for offering comprehensive education courses.

Kirkhill Barbers regularly attend GBBB education courses and this week was no different. Choosing an intense two-day education course located in Aberdeen with educator Ollie Foster. The Barbers were put through their paces creating hairstyles with new and old techniques throughout the two days and could not wait to get back in salon to put their new skills into practice.

Ollie Foster is an international educator for the barbering industry and is the lead educator with the Great British Barber Bash, co-director of Number 47 Barbers in Chester.
